How is the course trained and assessed?
All theory based delivery will occur within the designated classrooms of the RTO through structured training sessions from a qualified trainer / assessor employed by the RTO. At these training sessions a qualified trainer will provide the required skills and knowledge as per the unit content and will ensure the learning is imparted.

As part of this course students will also be required to undertake practical activities related to the course content. These practical activities will be undertaken in a simulated / workplace environment within the classroom based delivery. This may involve accessing appropriate facilities to ensure simulation can be achieved.

The course also involves students completing some reading and written work outside the scheduled classroom delivery time.

How often do the courses run and what is their duration?
Normal office operating times of the RTO are 9am - 5pm. All training and assessment will be scheduled within the following hours of operation: Monday – Sunday (8am -10pm).

The duration of this course is:
Delivered over a 12 month period (48 weeks):
Please contact Global Fitness Institute for next available dates and locations.

- 50 clinical placement hours to be completed as part of assessment

Students will also be required to allocate approximately 10 hours per week for reading and project work to be completed outside of the classroom environment. This will include completing pre-reading prior to classes and also time to complete research and complete assessment tasks.
